Service Wins All General Elections

Will Control Student Council For 3rd Year

By Murray Berdick

• FOR THE THIRD successive year a Samuel-guided Service machine has moved into power, sweeping with it all eight functional offices at stake in a campus-wide election, one out of two activity representative seats in convention elections, and two out of three senior class offices in a senior class election.

The eight functional offices who were elected Thursday and Friday are John Daugherty, president; John Sullivan, program director; John Breckinridge, student controller; Dick McDonald, advocate; Elwood Davis, publicity director; Don Rush, intramural director; Alice Miller, secretary-treasurer; and Irwin Nathanson, public forum director.

The three senior class officers, elected at the same time by the seniors, are Barbara Harmon (Independent), president; Roy Lever (Service), vice president; and Jay Samuel (Service), secretary.

In the two activity conventions Thursday night, to fill unexpired terms until February, 1940, Betty Green was elected unanimously as Forensics Representative, while the Miscellaneous and Religious Convention confirmed the Student Council's election of Miss Barnes last month. The vote in the latter convention was 28-19 for Miss Barnes' confirmation.

Voting Under Last Year's
The total number of students who entered a voting machine or filled out a ballot was 3,012. This represents a decline from last year's total of nearly 3,300. The decrease was due to the fact that three political parties were pulling in the votes last year, while only two were interested this year's election, officials said.

Only in one case out of the eight at-large did a Service candidate poll less than 600 votes. This was in the contest for the position of Public Forum Director, where Irwin Nathanson received 565 votes against Eugene M. Lerner's 393. Lerner, who brought Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt here to the campus in a forum while he was Freshman Forum Director last year, led his party's ticket in votes.

The other results were: President—Daugherty 639, George Fugate 329; Program Director—Sullivan 615, Elsie Carper 343; Student Controller—Breckinridge 626, Leonard Wilson 332; Advocate—McDonald 608, Charles Coker 357; Publicity Director—Davis 612, Phil Young 345; Intramural Director—Rush 641, Art Nowak 319; and Secretary-Treasurer—Alice Miller, running unopposed 648, (the blank space on the Independent ticket received 282 votes).

Miss Harmon Elected
In the senior class elections, Miss Harmon won the position of President (See "Service," Page 4)

Phi Beta Kappa Elects 11

• ELEVEN STUDENTS won the highest academic honor possible for undergraduates to receive when they were elected last week to membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Those so honored are: Marian Freehafer, Lillian Friedman, Martha Gammon, Edith Huddleston, Manuel Mendez, Nancy Nimitz, Virginia Reeve, Thomas Richman, Martha Sherier, Richard Van Hemert, and Richard Whetstone. They were selected on the basis of having maintained an average of above 3.25 on 90 hours of work and having shown, in the eyes of the faculty members of Phi Beta Kappa, high qualities of character and general promise. The new members will be initiated May 27.

Three of the new members are majoring in English: Marian Freehafer, Nancy Nimitz (both members of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honor sorority), and Thomas Richman, a member of the Literary Club.

Three Major Languages
Three are majoring in foreign languages. Edith Huddleston, majoring in French, is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa (See "Phi Beta," Page 4)

Professor's Wife Hit By Lightning

• MRS. ELIZABETH TAYLOR, wife of Prof. Ross Taylor, of the English department, narrowly escaped death last Wednesday when she and a friend were caught in a violent electrical storm and lightning struck a tree near where they were sheltered.

Her companion, Mrs. Ruth St. John, wife of John B. St. John, of the Social Security Board, was killed.

According to several observers, the women were knocked to the ground when the bolt struck. The men who were working on a new house nearby carried the two women into the Taylor home, where a physician was summoned.

Committee Plans Five Refugee Scholarships

• THE TEMPORARY Refugee Committee of George Washington University yesterday made public details of a student-faculty-alumni plan to establish five one-year scholarships for five refugees from Central Europe.

To bring five Central European refugee students to this University, the committee estimated, $5,000 would be necessary. Approximately half of amount would go for tuition, and half for living expenses. Funds and commitments are necessary before visas for the refugees will be issued.

President Marvin last week discussed the plan with the committee and agreed to present it to the Board of Trustees at an early date.

The Temporary Refugee Committee will hold an open meeting Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock to discuss presentation of the plan to the Board.

Bare Majority Of Voters Favor Commons Building

• A BARE MAJORITY of the 773 students who signified their favor or disfavor of a plan to build a Student Commons building voted "Yes" on the referendum, which was held concurrently with the Student Council elections last week.

Of the 1,012 students who entered the voting machines, or voted by ballot, 239 ignored the referendum, either by accident or design. Of those who did vote on the issue, 396 favored the plan, and 377 voted against it.

The plan, presented by Cap Gardner and Jay Samuel, president and student controller, respectively, of this year's Student Council, in a letter to President Cloyd H. Marvin two months ago, would involve a $2 increase per semester in the so-called "activity fee."

The referendum was conducted to give a manifestation of student opinion on the subject. Gardner, however, in a statement to The Hatchet Sunday, said, "I don't think that it was a representative vote."

"I don't think that most of the people who voted against the plan knew what they were voting against," he added. "I believe the referendum was the victim of political circumstances, since it was made the issue between the two parties. As a result of this, it was presented in its worst light to the students."

Graham Hutton Addresses Class In Economics

• THE BALANCE OF power in Europe is not only a European problem, but involves Africa and Asia as well, Graham Hutton, English author, told a student audience of more than 100 last Tuesday evening.

Speaking on "The Eastern Mediterranean and the Economic Significance of the Suez Canal," Mr. Hutton, who wrote the current best seller, "Survey After Munich," stressed that the Mediterranean today must be considered as much an African sea as a European one.

Telling his audience that in current international affairs the Suez Canal is more important to Italy than to England, Mr. Hutton urged students of foreign affairs to keep their eyes on developments in Russia, Syria, Turkey, Arabia and other countries in the Near East.

Legal Fraternity Initiates 5 Students

• PHI ALPHA DELTA, legal fraternity, initiated five law students into membership Saturday in Stockton Hall, and gave a dance in their honor Saturday evening at the Potomac Boat Club.

The initiates were George L. Derr, Herbert Meyer, William C. Mott, DeWitt V. Reed and Allan R. Poore.

Combined Glee Clubs Present 12th Annual Concert May 11

• EACH OF THE past 12 years has seen the Annual Spring Concert and Dance of the Combined University Glee Clubs. This year the event will occur May 11 and will present a program of choral music by renowned composers as presented by male, female and mixed units, directed by Dr. Robert Harmon. Leon Brusiloff's Concert Orchestra will accompany the group. The event will be held in the Willard Hotel.

The Glee Clubs have a distinguished past, including appearances with the National Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Hans Kindler and on the stages of local theaters, and also as place-winning competitors in intercollegiate competition.

Tickets for the performance are available from any member of the Glee Clubs or from the University cashier's office at one dollar per person. The program will begin at 8:45 p.m. and the dancing, to the music of Brusiloff's Mad Masters, at 10 o'clock.

Columbian Women Will Elect Today

• ELECTION OF OFFICERS will feature the annual business meeting of the Columbian Women, to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Columbian House.

Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of the organization for the last two years, and wife of the president of the University, will conclude her present term of office at this time. Other officers for the past year include Miss Margaret Pepper, first vice president; Mrs. Joseph Cox, second vice president; Mrs. Edgar Woolard, record secretary; Miss Helen Newman, assistant secretary; Mrs. Regina Ramos, treasurer; and Miss Jessie Cooper, historian.

Before the business meeting, a tea will be held with Mrs. Sarah R. Lerch pouring. She will be assisted by Mrs. W. Haynes Yeager, Miss Julie McCord, Miss Margaret Vail and Miss Hazel Borden.

Four Testify Against Senate Law School Bill

• ONLY FOUR persons testified against Senate Bill 1610 at the hearing held last week. Three of those opposing the bill were members of the Law School faculty, and the fourth was a representative from the law school of the Howard University.

Dean William C. Van Vleet; Prof. John McIntyre, and Prof. H. S. Spaulding appeared in opposition to the bill. The Student Bar Association and the Junior Section of the District Bar were not represented.

The bill, which was introduced by Senator Sheppard and Congressman LeRabee, provides for "the discontinuance of the salaries of appointing officers of the Government who give preference to applicants who are graduates of approved law schools or who have college training in addition to legal training."

Prof. Bernard Jefferson of the Howard Law School, told the subcommittee holding the hearing that the bill would result in discrimination against the colored race.

Columnist George D. Riley of the Washington Times-Herald, testified in favor of the bill. Also in favor of the bill were: Harry L. Isikoff, Mrs. Sophina J. Lesica, Godfrey Manter and Walter M. Bastian.

Hearings on the bill have not been printed, but will probably be available this week.

Applications Are Due

• STUDENTS ARE reminded that applications for degrees and certificates to be conferred at the commencement exercises June 14, must be made at the Registrar's Office by Friday.

Cue & Curtain Gives "Winterset" This Week; Girls Drag To Sadie Hawkins Dance 1st Night

Girls Get Big Chance On Sadie Hawkins Day

• PI DELTA EPSILON, honorary journalistic fraternity, at the Sadie Hawkins Day dance, Friday, will reverse the old tradition of boy takes girl. For one evening the girls will pay for their own and their date's admission and will also buy any refreshments their dates may desire.

The dance will be held in the Student Club immediately following the Cue and Curtain play and Pi Delta Epsilon initiation, which will probably be around 10 p.m., and will last until 12:30. Admission is 10c stag or drag. A local orchestra will provide music for dancers.

Campus leaders and belles questioned about this novel dance expressed jubilation at getting such a chance.

"It is a chance for the girls to boys or less 'get even' with the boys," said Jane Reese, a Chi Omega. "We may never have another opportunity like this."

Cap Gardner, retiring Student Council president—"It is a novel idea that should draw a large crowd. This is a golden opportunity for all the so-called popular boys on the campus to find out just how popular they really are."

Eleanor Sherburne, University Sweetheart—"It will give both boy and girl a chance to see the other's side in the dating question. It certainly is within the girl's budget."

Art Coffman, Interfraternity Social Chairman—"Since next year is leap year, this dance will start things off right. The dance commences a little for all the boys have spent on the girls during the year."

Pat Lawrence, Kappa Kappa Gamma—"I always get a big kick out of this type of dance. The reversal of custom is lots of fun because it is so different for both boy and girl."

Conforming to the "Sadie Hawkins Day" comic strip tradition the girls will do all the cutting during the evening. Pi Delta Epsilon girls are coming, stag and Strong Hall girls have been invited to come either stag or drag. No boy stags will be admitted to the dance.

Art Department Chooses Jury For Last Exhibit

• THREE STUDENTS of the art department have been chosen by the faculty to act as a jury for choosing the paintings of University student artists to be exhibited in the last exhibit of the Studio Gallery. They are Elizabeth Griswold, Alfred McAdams and Alexander Prescott.

This exhibit, which will start May 8 and continue through May 30, will contain a limited number of paintings done by the students in art classes during the current school year.

Each member of the jury will show one of his own paintings. The jury will also pick the best picture in the show which will be the winner of a $10 prize.

A popular prize of $5 will be awarded on the basis of a popular vote by ballots cast by gallery visitors during the week of May 8-14.

Gathered around the table are, left to right, Jayne Harrison as Miriam; Clinton Brain as Garth; Francis X. Nolan as Judge Gault; Allan Dewey (standing) as Esdras; and Eugene M. Lerner (leaning on table), as Mio.

• THIS IS WHAT will be happening Thursday night at Pi Delta's Sadie Hawkins Dance.

University May Favor Traffic Lights

• SHOULD SENTIMENT on the campus favor the installation of traffic lights on school corners the University will open conversations with the proper District authorities, Charles E. Merry, assistant to the controller, indicated last week.

Answering a query made by The Hatchet concerning the possibility of eliminating hazards to student pedestrians, particularly at the 21st and G St. intersection, Mr. Merry agreed that it would be advisable to take some steps to remedy the condition.

Proposed by The Hatchet every year, the installation of traffic lights at the school intersections has not yet been generally recognized by the student body as the solution to the acute traffic problem at these corners.

Thousands of students jam the streets at 5, 6 and 7 p.m. every school night, creating a dangerous traffic situation.

A stop sign placed by the District police at this intersection has remedied conditions somewhat during the past few years, but since it applied only to G Street traffic, the problem of crossing 21st Street is still a perilous one during the rush hours.

Bar Association Hears Labor Board Counsel

• ALEXANDER HAWES, Assistant General Counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, will speak at the last forum of the Student Bar Association tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in Stockton-3.

The subject of his talk will be: "The Effects of Recent Legislation on the NLRB."

Riding Club Show Saturday Will Include Nine Classes

• NINE CLASSES are open for competitors in the Riding Club's horse show which will be held Saturday at the Meadowbrook Show Grounds at 2 p.m. with free admission to the public.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded in the following classes: beginners' horsemanship; University advanced horsemanship; fraternity-sorority jumping; bridal path hack; students jumping (open to students of all universities); gymkana (nature as yet unrevealed); hunter hack (including horsemanship and jumps); jumping (open to all); and University jump.

The George Washington University Championship Trophy will be awarded the University student winning the highest number of points in classes 2, 7 and 9, above.

Col. Robert A. Whittaker will serve as judge, with Roger Power announcing.

In case of bad weather Saturday the show will be held Sunday.

Year's Third Play Is Prize Winning Drama

• CLIMAXING this year's dramatic search, Cue and Curtain, under the directorship of Floyd Sparks, will present Maxwell Anderson's prize-winning play, "Winterset," in the gymnasium Friday and Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

The drama, a tragedy written in blank verse, about a contemporary theme, won the first annual award by the New York dramatic critics circle as the "best American play for 1935." The play is written in blank verse and is considered by many critics to be one of the greatest plays written in the English language—and so considered the outstanding English play since Shakespeare's time.

It was at the National Theater here in Washington that Mr. Anderson was awarded the silver plaque for "conquering the notably difficult task of interpreting a valid and challenging theme dealing with the pursuit of human justice in terms of unusual poetic force."

Lerner in "Dead End"

It is interesting to note that at the same time Eugene Lerner, who will play the Burgess Meredith role of "Mio" in the prize-winning production, was playing in one of the presentations of "Dead End" which was a runner-up for the critics' award.

Lerner has also appeared professionally in the Chicago company of "Dead End." He played the part of "Mitty" at the National Theater in Washington as well as Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Detroit and Cleveland. He will play the part of Miriamne, who had several years of semi-pro experience. The role she will take is the one played by Margo, both on the stage and in the movies.

The second lead, Esdras, will be taken by Allan Dewey, who played a major role in last year's production of "The Whiteheaded Boy." Clinton Brain plays the part of his son, Garth.

As a crushing melodrama against the fruit of injustice, "Winterset" uses gangsters to push its point. Leonard Wilson plays the part of Trock, the gangster who really committed the crime; Francis X. Nolan, the judge, whose unjust sentence of Mio's father drove him to insanity.

The typical characters of the Manhattan slum district are portrayed by trigger man (Fred Young, See "Winterset," Page 4)

24 Teams Debate For Cup

• TWENTY-THREE Greek Letter organizations and the Colonial Campus Club will be represented in competition for the Delta Sigma Rho debate cup when the teams meet in Gov. 301 at 8:10 p.m. Friday for assignment of judges and chairmen. The resolution is "that the Patman anti-chain store tax should be enacted into law."

The teams, which will be composed of two active members of each organization, pledges being considered as active, will debate against an assigned opponent, and each contest will be judged by a single critic judge.

Christian Bromberg, undergraduate Intramural Debate Manager, has announced room assignments as follows: (In each case the first organization named argues the affirmative.)

Fraternities
Gov. 305—Sigma Chi, Acacia.
Gov. 305—Phi Sigma Kappa, Phi Epsilon.
Gov. 102—Kappa Alpha, Tau Alpha Omega.
Gov. 205—Theta Delta Chi, Tau Kappa Epsilon.
Gov. 201—Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Nu.

Sororities
Gov. 203—Alpha Delta Delta, Colonial Campus Club.
Gov. 305—Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Delta.
Gov. 301—Zeta Tau Alpha, Sigma.
Gov. 302—Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi.
Gov. 303—Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma.
Gov. 304—Phi Mu, Delta Zeta.

Hatchet Corrects Quotation Error

• CRITICISING the general use of the calendar year as the normal business cycle for a 12-month period by various opinions, Dr. Ralph E. Kennedy of the business administration department was reported in last week's issue of The Hatchet as suggesting the general use of the 12-month period beginning June 30th instead.

Dr. Kennedy last week informed The Hatchet that the statement as reported was only partially correct, and that the period beginning June 30th was suggested as only one of many possibilities. The records of any business should be closed to determine profit or loss for the year at the low period of operations, he said, and this varies as between different companies.

S. 1610: Down With Merit

A Government service already overburdened with a vast army of bureaucratic drones in the Civil Service branches will, if S. 1610 is "enacted," be subjected to the same deadening influence in its professional services. That conclusion was well-supported by Dean Van Vleck in his statement of last week, in which, among other cogent arguments, he made the following illuminating comment: "S. 1610 does not oppose the establishment of minimum standards. It proposes the establishment of maximum standards above which no one is permitted to go, and fixes this maximum standard at the lowest level in the U. S. for requirements for admission to the Bar."

In other words, the extreme minimum standard of the legal profession is to be made the maximum standard of the U. S. Government.

That is ridiculous enough in itself, but the bill goes further. It provides not only that there shall be no recognition of an applicant's college and law school training—but also that there shall not even be any recognition of whether he attended a law school! That is startling. Here is the language of the bill: "... no officer ... shall discriminate against any applicant ... because such applicant ... acquired his legal education in a law office."

That is, in this the Twentieth Century, it is proposed that appointments in a highly trained professional service be made without distinction between college graduates and those who have "read law" in the office of Judge Whoozies!

One more significant point might be made, and that is that as a rule, throughout the entire Federal service, lawyers are appointed without reference to the Civil Service or the taking of examinations. If, then, a college man goes to an appointing officer without any credit for being a college graduate—what is to determine his selection?

Politics, very likely. And it may be suspected that politics played a part in getting this bill introduced.

As Dean Van Vleck said, "The words, 'Be It Enacted' will not make unapproved law schools as good as approved law schools." Neither will they turn a shyster into a lawyer.

One Light Held Aloft

We can no longer fail to see that the lights of reason have been extinguished on the continent of Europe. And as University students we cannot but be concerned with the arbitrary and needless suppressions of intellectual freedom that can be seen today.

But it will profit none of us to become emotional or slogan-ridden about the matter. Thus, the project of the temporary "George Washington Refugee Committee" takes on special significance.

Here is a suggestion—maturely thought out and planned out in detail on paper—to throw the weight of this University and this student body on the side of intellectual freedom, and at the same time to insure definite benefits to the University.

The plan seems practical and of real and immediate value to all concerned. The committee conceives of the project as a combined endeavor of students, faculty, alumni, friends of the University and the University itself.

It is a project which must require the careful and thoughtful attention of all concerned.

Ars Gratia Artis

The Studio Gallery of the Art Department is now rounding out its second year of existence. During that time more than a score of artists, many of them intimately associated with the University, have exhibited their work here, and have more than justified the gallery's existence.

For a time the gallery seemed to attract only a few students. Certainly the Art Department was not attempting to lift high its academic robes to keep the gallery free from the "dust of a vulgar world." Perhaps students just didn't know where it was situated, or if they did, felt that it was a sort of ivory tower full of beautiful things beyond their ken. Gradually more took cognizance.

Miss Mary Whitney Thoenen's exhibit brought the gallery immediately to the attention of still more who hitherto shunned the small unpretentious G Street building.

It is planned to extend an equally glad hand to others of the student body in the remaining weeks of the gallery's season.

The Hatchet is not in accord with the shop-worn attitudes toward art. We heartily recommend the Studio Gallery as one of the best shows on the campus.

"Sadie Hawkins", Or, The Underdog Has His Day

A "Sadie Hawkins dance," such as we are to enjoy this week, is one of those rare occasions when the mere college male assumes his rightful status of an equal with the coed—a coed who will, once she leaves G Street, begin demanding "equality" with men.

For this once, the ladies will ask for dates (or come "stag"), act as escorts, buy the drinks (at the soda fountain), "cut in," fill the "stag line," and generally assume the role of cavalier and gallant which tradition has assigned to the asking half of the species.

This is a notable reversal which, while it may not be equality, is certainly an improvement over the horse-and-buggy, "The Warrior's Husband," and the Dutch Treat. We are all for it, and extend our gratitude to Pi Delta Epsilon for assigning us the role of coed. More and more equality is undoubtedly the basis of a better democracy.

Our phone number is District 5170.

"Winterset": A Step Forward

With the production of Maxwell Anderson's great play, Cue and Curtin is going a long way toward achieving its old status of an excellent amateur acting company. "Winterset" is a difficult play, in the most difficult dramatic form outside the opera, and its production on the campus—which may not be judged by professional standards, of course—is the culmination of a year's really worthwhile effort in student drama.

One thing Cue and Curtin must have before it will be a completely equipped production company—and that is a stage. Without proper technical facilities, any company is handicapped. But until we have our own stage, Cue and Curtin is doing a valiant thing in keeping its old spirit alive, in carrying on the tradition of an acting company.

Cue and Curtin has done well in carrying on this year—in the city-wide tournament competition, and in the production of its own "workshop" plays, where talent has been discovered and developed. Only one thing has marred a year of achievement—and that has been the occasional intrusion of politics. Director Floyd Sparks has effectively discouraged politics wherever he could, and for that he deserves additional credit.

It is difficult to see where the club would have gone this year without Sparks, who has been the dynamo that made it move. He deserves the general thanks of the campus, and we are glad to sing our bit of praise.

Committee Is Alarmed By Election

Opposes Practice Of Vote-Getting

Full text of the Election Week Report of the Special Committee for Viewing with Alarm, G. W. Chapter, Watch and Wary Society.

THE SITUATION is appalling and rarely has this committee had a better point of vantage from which to view with Alarm. We are alarmed in this wise:

(1) We frown upon the practice of Coeds Giving Smiles for Votes ... A fair exchange is a robbery ... If you don't know what the committee means, you'd better go right on to the Report of the Committee on Crumpet Consumption.

(2) When Victor Herbert wrote the song "A Woman Is Only a Woman, But a Good Cigar Is a Smoke," was he right? If so, we suggest that Certain Campus Politicians resume the Old Election Custom of passing out cigars when they want votes.

(3) Field-day investigation has brought the following complaints: "I am going to send my next cleaner's bill to the Panhel Council. These vote ogters have twisted my lapels out of shape." "The curfew law has cramped the style of the Strong Hall get-a-voter league."

In closing, the Committee would like to congratulate the Sovereign Voter on the way he has borne up under the strain. We wish him a year of Peace. Respectfully, Etc.

meeting that night with pins ... Now one of them is rumored pinned to the girl again.

The poll on the best dancer has gone past the 75-vote point with the votes: Eleanor Sherburne 15, Betty Stevenson 15, Peggy Colbourne 6, Virginia Riddle 4, Margaret Wynn, Joan Giles, Peggy Klechka, and Amy Heilman 3 each, etc. ... And who do you think is the silent passion of most of the males? ... The question was put, "What girl in school of those you've never yet dated would you most like to date?" Emily Crawford took six votes of the first 33 registered, and Gen Harris, Patsy Newman, Virginia Lathrop, Sylvia Wilkinson and others got several votes. The same question posed to the females gave the lead to Vic Sampson, Prof. Meriman, and Russ Cullin with the latter in a slight lead. Cullin tops the best dancer choice by a mile with the girls with over half of the first 40 votes. Joe Bob Gale and Grant-Sherk have a few more than the other runners-up.

Why not make the "cow bells" play the "Star Spangled Banner" at the end of every class?

Confidentially

By Robert Linehan

ALTHOUGH the referendum concerning the $2 increase per semester hour for a Student Commons Building passed by a vote of 396 to 377, I believe that the large number of students who failed to vote in the election plus the 377 who voted no have effectively killed the movement at this time. It is unfortunate that this question became a political football, but still the plan as outlined probably would have been defeated. I would insist, however, that it was the method of raising the money and not the idea of having a building that was defeated by this lack of enthusiasm.

Again this week I would like to discuss Cue and Curtin, or more exactly its director, Floyd Sparks. Every evening around 8 o'clock he starts in directing Cue and Curtin rehearsals. These usually last until 11 or in other words three hectic hours. Then he rushes madly down to Capitol Hill to go to work on the police force. He works until approximately 8 a.m. when he departs for the Student Club to eat breakfast. After breakfast he strolls over to the art school and goes to work on the props for the Winterset production. He spends all day at this task, doing such odd jobs in the meantime as going down to purchase materials and so forth. It is rumored that he is also connected with some professional acting organization or training school in addition. Now the question is when does he sleep?

While we are on the subject of Cue and Curtin it seems strange and a bit unfortunate that interfraternity debates start the same night as its premiere.

What Does College Mean To You?

A Senior Reviews His Four Years

What do you, as a student here, expect to get out of your college career? Four years, or three years, from now what effect will your college career have had upon you Freshmen?

In the belief that their experiences and conclusions may help you to see where you're going, we have asked several Seniors to tell us what they have got out of their life in University.

The first in this series is printed below. If other Seniors care to join the series, we shall be glad to print their letters in later issues.

No. 1 in a Series

By Everett Bellows, '39

ONE HUNDRED and twenty semester hours—an interesting phrase.

What does it mean really? So many books read? So many lectures attended?—or cut?

Not quite. A symphony is something more than the sum total of its notes; a college education is something more than the sum of accredited and required hours.

College has meant to me the world in miniature, but has not been, therefore, less real. I have found at George Washington both moral idealism and intellectual stimulation. I have also found those more mundane attributes of society—prejudice, politics, and social pomp.

Stimulating Contacts.

Turning to specifics, I should say that college has meant above all else stimulating contacts and friendships which have contributed much toward making the whole effort worthwhile.

To my fraternity I owe a debt of gratitude for polishing off the rough edges. To congressional politics in general and to my own political party in particular, I am indebted for a Everett Bellows.

Wider cosmopolitanism, a tolerance for other points of view when honestly advanced, and finally, a realization that "democracy rests on the positive activity of its adherents and not on academic reiterations of allegiance."

A Broader Horizon

Through certain of the faculty, college has come to mean a broader horizon and the privilege of sharing in a more profound understanding of the dynamics of our civilization. To them, too, I owe a more sympathetic knowledge of human behavior, by both example and precept, and an attitude of benevolent inquiry into human relationships.

No memory will remain with me longer than the fatherly kindness of the late Prof. Charles E. Hill or the character and enthusiastic scholarship of Prof. Marvin T. Herick.

Profitable Academic Life

Lastly, but nonetheless as paramount, the formal, academic ele-

Mothers, Make Certain You Lock Up the Phonograph Records And Goldfish Before Leaving Your Sons at Home

by Charles Earl Wallace

I was just a little goldfish Living a life of ease, 'Til Joe College came along And caused my life to cease.

I used to fear the cat, But it doesn't bother me now: Joe College is the fellow Who has the vicious meow.

First my mother disappeared, Then a brother or two; But Joe College won the contest He has no cause to be blue.

Yes, just a little goldfish And a happy life I led; Perhaps I'd still be living If Joe College were better fed.

OF ALL THE gastronomic exhibitions college students have been guilty of, the eating of innocent goldfish is by far the worst. The goldfish gulping craze seems to know no end. Eminent medical authorities say that the participants

Eating goldfish for publicity purposes is not at all justifiable. It does not reflect well on the institutions which the swallows represent. The opinion of Harvard and other big schools was decidedly lowered as a result of the child-like displays.

Even worse, however, has been the eating of phonograph records and white mice, which recently took place at the University of Illinois at Harvard.

This surely must end. Colleges and universities have come in for much criticism in the past. The record can not stand too much. If students want to commit such God-awful stunts they don't have to come to college.

They can stay at home and do it privately. The general public isn't apt to be so cynical about sending their sons and daughters to school for higher education if they see less of the sensational things which come intermittently in college life.

Some have gone so far as to suggest an intercollegiate goldfish swallowing contest. Can't you see hundreds of students cheering their team on to victory? C.A.N.'t you see them demanding that one more slippery goldfish be swallowed to assure them of winning the title?

Greek Round-Up

• WITH SIGMA NU and Phi Sigma Kappa keeping in tune with the spring custom of exchanging dinners with sororities, the Greek week got underway Monday night when the Kappa Delta was entertained at a buffet dinner by the Sigma Nu Fraternity, and the Phi Sigs entertained the Kappas.

However, spring dances will hold the spotlight in fraternity social life this week with Tau Kappa Epsilon leading off with their Triangle Ball tomorrow at the National Women's Country Club. The Triangle Ball is a Teke national traditional affair, which is being held on this campus for the first time. About 80 Teke actives and alumni will attend.

Lieutenants Davis and Cooper, U. S. M. C., of Quantico, Va., were entertained at the Teke House last week-end. They are from the Ohio State and Rhode Island chapters, respectively.

Kappa Sigs Announce Jungle Ball
Kappa Sigma will hold its annual Jungle Ball next Saturday night at the house, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon will hold its Spring Formal May 5.

The Tau Sigs will hold their Spring Prom on May 12 at the Washington Golf and Country Club. The Tau Sigs also announce the initiation of Richard Eckler and Gordon Riddick.

Delta Tau Delta Fraternity elected the following officers for the ensuing year 1939-40: President, H. Glenn Roundbush; vice president, Richard McDonald; treasurer, Benton Burford; recording secretary, Arthur Brancome; corresponding secretary, J. Edward Snipes.

A pre-installation hay-ride to Arlington, Va., for Friday has been changed to Saturday in order that the fraternity may attend the first night performance of "Winterest." Installation will take place next Sunday.

Sig Eps Attend Convention
Lief Olsen, Morgan Percy, Tom McCall and Walter Hatcher attended the fifth annual Sigma Phi Epsilon District Convention of District IV at Charlottesville, Va., Saturday and Sunday. The University of Virginia S. P. E. chapter was host to the Washington and Lee, University of Richmond, Randolph-Macon, and George Washington chapters. Dr. Ulysses Combs, District Governor, was Convention Director. The Monticello Hotel was the scene of the District banquet on Saturday evening.

Stanley Petersen, Ira Jones, Bill Snyder and Monroe Williamson of Acadia attended the regional conference at Penn State College, Pa., over the week-end.

Acadia also announces the election of the following officers: Stanley Petersen, president; Donald Peterson, vice president; Ira Jones, junior, dean; Herbert Lindsay, treasurer; Bill Snyder, secretary; and Millard Bennett, Interfraternity delegate.

Sigma Chi entertained 26 members of the Eastern Province of the fraternity at a convention held here Friday and Saturday. Dr. W. Henry McClean, Grand Tribune, and Lee Mead Hammond, District Supervisor, attended the conference meeting.

A. D. Pi's Give Spring Formal.
The Alpha Delta Pi's are starting out their spring activities with a real beginning by giving their Spring Formal at the Wardman Park Hotel tonight. They held an exchange dinner with Kappa Sig last Monday night.

Sigma Kappa held an "indoor weenie roast" instead of the one planned due to the rain Saturday night. The merriment started in the sorority's rooms and the crowd journeyed out to the home of Ellen Zippel for dancing afterward. Sigma Kappa also held a "Dad's Party" for the fathers in the room last night.

Zeta Tau Alpha last week installed their seventy-seventh chapter at the University of Mississippi. Grand Chapter President Louise Kettler Helper presided at the installation. Previously this year a chapter was installed at the Texas College of Mines and Arts in El Paso, Texas.

Zeta will hold a bicycle party and breakfast Sunday morning. They will give their annual White Violet Ball May 17th at the National Women's Country Club.

Kappa Delta was entertained at a buffet supper by the Sigma Nu Fraternity last night.

Pi Beta Phi held an open house at the rooms Sunday for all fraternities and sororities and for members of the faculty.

National officers of Chi Omega, Mrs. Mary Love Collins, president; Miss Elizabeth Dyer, vice president; Mrs. Mattie Craighill, secretary; and Miss Christobel Ferguson, treasurer, were here in Washington for the presentation of the National achievement award, which was awarded at the White House.

Delta Zeta Patrons Entertained
Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Tupper, Professor and Mrs. N. B. Ames, Dr. and Mrs. R. N. Owens, and Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Seeger, patrons and patronesses of Delta Zeta, were entertained at a dinner given at the rooms last Monday night.

A Mother's Day Tea will be given on May 7 between 4 and 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Wilkins at Cabin John, Md. The Delta Zeta Spring Formal will be held May 16, at the National Women's Country Club.

Christian Scientists Meet
• THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE organization will meet Thursday at 8:10 p.m. in Columbian House.

Buff 'n Blue Features Lee Everett

• THE HURRIED, crowded atmosphere of the Student Club underwent its periodic transformation into a cosmopolitan dance spot Friday evening for the Buff 'n Blue Room, as students assembled to dance, and otherwise enjoy themselves and also to hear the announcements of the recent council and class elections.

Couples occupied the tables and dance floor beneath softly colored lights until exactly 11 o'clock, when Lee Everett, local radio entertainer, went into his master of ceremonies role and started the floor show.

Miss Barry, vivacious brunette with an attractive smile, drew a big hand as did Sherk with his two vocal numbers. Mr. Sherk rendered first the currently popular piece, "And the Angels Sing." As an encore he gave the selection, "Is That All I Meant to You," both the words and music of which are by Roy Collins, a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity.

The show was concluded with the announcement by William C. Goumann, elections chairman, of the results of Thursday's and Friday's balloting.

S.A.E.; Sigs Hold Novel Dances

• TWO FRATERNITIES, Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, held extremely novel affairs this past week-end.

Sigma Chi entertained Saturday night with their traditional Greenwich village party at Indian Springs Country Club. Artists of the real colony had nothing on the Sig brothers and their dates who frolicked to the tunes of the Royal Blues.

Cis Porter looked like the traditional artist himself when he saw her wondering around in slacks and gayly decorated smock. Charlie Kleinfeld and Bayard Clark, both dressed in the oldest and tackiest of clothes, escorted Louise Alden and Shirley Cox, who were dressed traditionally in slacks and shirts.

Pat Laurence and George Walters also carried out the artist ideal. Pat wore slacks and George appeared in old clothes. Mary Frances Merz was the baby of the party as she wore rompers.

S. A. E.'s novel party of the month was a different but equally unusual ideal. They held, at the house Friday night, a so-called "screwie" party.

Twenty-five girls including Aldine Drury, Jean Duke, Nancy Gregory, Teddy Gates, Jean Putnam, Marie McNeese, Doris Conklin, Elaine Bondi, Pat Laurence, Ruth Crouche, Doris Blackwell, Ann Thurman, Marjorie Stockie, Betty Hutto, Doris Thompson, Ruth Warren, Betsey Yates, Betty Vetter, Frances Rolfe, Margaret Jaefke, Betty Breeder, Toddie Mulnehill, and Barbara Schmitt were invited to come stag to the S. A. E. house.

The party then continued in a customary manner until about 12 o'clock, when the girls spun the bottle and in this way picked their dates for the evening.

W. A. A. Choses 2 Banquet Chairmen

• MADELAINE MATCHETT and Kathryn Hershey have been chosen co-chairmen for the Women's Athletic Association's spring banquet, which will be held at the Collingsworth Inn Wednesday, May 24, at 8 p.m.

An annual affair, this banquet marks the end of the spring sport season. In addition to awards which will be presented to winners of the spring sport tournaments—archery, golf, and tennis—the banquet features the presentation of awards to the outstanding senior women and to the outstanding junior or senior, who are selected by the W. A. A. Board.

The chairmen have asked that particular attention be brought upon the fact that the banquet is open to all women in sports, not to W. A. A. members alone.

Pi Delt Sponsors Sadie Hawkins Day

• "TURNABOUT is fair play" is a slogan which will be put into effect when girls ask the boys and pay for them at the Sadie Hawkins Dance, which will be held in the Student Club Friday night.

The dance at which the girls will come into their own is sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, and is the first of its type ever to be held on campus.

The dance will be held immediately following the Cue and Curtain production, "Winterest." It will probably start about 10:30 and will last until 12:30. The price of admission is only 10 cents. A local orchestra will furnish the music.

Girls will ask the boys for dates and will also buy any refreshments desired at the Student Club counter. The cutting-in at the dance will be done entirely by girls.

No boy stags will be allowed at the dance, but every girl in the University is invited—sing or drag.

"No girl should be afraid to come to the dance," said Marie McNeese, in charge of arrangements, "as all the Pi Delt girls will be there stag." She further stated that many well-known girls on campus have been contacted and asked to bring dates.

Sadie Hawkins Days have proved very popular at other universities. They are often known as Leap Year dances or as Spinster parties.

Undefeated Buff Handball Team Trims Virginia

• THE COLONIAL handball team, undefeated this year on four-wall courts, defeated the University of Virginia last Saturday at Charlottesville, by the score of five to one.

Paced by Walter Engelhardt and Murray Collins, both of whom won a pair of singles matches, the Buff won by their customary wide margin, but every battle resolved itself into a hard-fought contest.

Feature of the match was a singles contest between Walter Engelhardt and Vic Elmaleh. Walt took the first game, 21-13, lost the second, 20-21, and trailed, 15-19, as the third and last match neared completion. Finding hidden reservoirs of strength, Engelhardt really turned on the heat, to eke out a 21-19 victory. Previous to this effort, Engelhardt has beaten Norman Finkelstein, foremost Cavalier player, by scores of 21-18, 22-21, and 21-5.

Polishing off Norman Davis of Virginia, 21-19, 21-17, Murray Collins went on to defeat Herb Linne by the scores of 21-16, 21-10. Charles Engelhardt completed the singles sweep by beating Cap Bork, 21-18, 20-21, and 21-5.

The Colonials suffered their only reverse of the match, and incidentally their first defeat in four complete matches, in the lone doubles contest, when Collins and Charles Engelhardt went down before the combined forces of Cap Bork and Finkelstein, by the scores of 21-9, 21-15.

Faris Wins Intramural Ping-Pong Championship

• DISPLAYING the same uncanny ability that established him as the District's top-fite basketball, Bob Faris defeated Bernie Blankin 21-18, 21-15, and 21-15 for the intramural ping-pong championship. The match was played last Wednesday.

The tournament, which was begun a few weeks ago, pitted the individual class champs against each other. In the freshman play-off Stewart Baker won over Roy McNeil, while in the sophomore play-off Baker was defeated by Bernie Blankin. In the junior-senior match Bob Faris topped Charlie Hurd to get the right to meet Blankin in the finals. It was then that Faris won over Blankin in a fast and furious battle.

Rain Halts Greeks

• FORCED BY RAIN to postpone all scheduled games over the week-end, the fraternities in the Interfraternity Baseball League are now even further behind schedule than ever. Some of the teams have played only one game, although the schedule now calls for four games to have been played.

Next week's games are: League A—P.S.K.-S.A.E., T.K.E.-D.T.D., T.D.X.-S.N., League B—T.S.R.-S.X., K.A.-K.S., S.P.E.-Acacia.

Chemistry Team Wins

• THE CHEMISTRY Department softball team last week defeated the Engineers by a score of 15-0. Stan Levin hurled a one-hit game for the winners. The two teams will play again today, using a hard ball.

Five P-E Heads Leave To Attend N. Y. Meeting

• FIVE MEMBERS of the Physical Education Department will attend the Eastern Physical Education meeting in New York City, May 3-6. Max Farrington, Bernie Phillips, and William Myers from the men's department, and Misses Ruth Atwell and Helen Lawrence, of the ladies' department, will be present. The men will leave for New York by automobile Wednesday afternoon and will return here Saturday night.

Tonkavitch Still Alive; Death Denie

• PERSONALLY denying reports of his death, John Tonkavitch, star fullback of last year's football eleven, wrote Captain John Rehbolz that he was still very much alive, and that rumors of his death was "very greatly exaggerated."

"Tonky" explained that another man, having the same name and from the same locality, died, and that newspaper stories had gotten the two persons mixed up. Despite attempts to confirm the report, this was the first additional news received by the University athletic department.

"Tonky" starred in many of the football games last fall, scoring a touchdown against Colorado on a nine-yard run after placing the ball in scoring position with a spectacular 61-yard run. He has been working in his home town, California, Pa., since he left the University in February.

Linksmen Face Loyola; Defend Title Saturday

• THE INTRAMURAL golf team of the University will match strokes with the Loyola University (of Baltimore) team this afternoon on the tough Hillendale Country Club course.

Saturday the team journeys to Westminster, Maryland, where it will defend its title as champion of the Western Maryland invitation tournament. Keen competition is expected, especially from the Baltimore University team, which is captained by Otto Geiner, Middle Atlantic junior champion and winner of the low individual championship at the Western Maryland tournament a year ago.

Last Thursday the team battled to a 3-3 standstill with the Terrors from Western Maryland in a driving rain. Feature of the match was a score of 68, shot by both Lefe Franklin and Carl Betsch, which is pretty good golf, considering the weather conditions.

The team which will represent the University consists of No. 1, Lefe Franklin (captain); No. 2, Carl Hetsch; No. 3, Myron Madson; and No. 4, Birmingham. So far this year the team has to its credit a win over Johns Hopkins, a tie with each Western Maryland and Maryland, and a loss to Baltimore University.

Frosh Nine Plays Terps, Georgetown

• WITH GAMES between the Colonial Frosh and the Maryland and Georgetown Freshmen teams coming up during the next seven days, Coach Ed Morris is wondering what he is going to do for pitchers before the week is over, as the Frosh also play Washington and Lee High on Thursday; Anacostia High on Friday; and Devitt Prep on Saturday. The Maryland game is tomorrow and the Hoyas game Monday.

Either Jack Redinger or Toby Bright will get the call to hurl against the Terps tomorrow afternoon at College Park, but beyond that, the pitching assignments for the coming week are anybody's guess.

Thursday's game with W & L will be played at Ballston and the game with Anacostia will be staged at Eastern High School. Saturday the team comes back "home" to face Devitt Prep in a game postponed since last Saturday when rain and cold weather forced the delay. Sunday is a day of rest and then come the Hoyas on Monday.

Last week only three games were squeezed in between the rain-drops, with the Colonials recording victories over 7-Up A. C. and Eastern High School, while dropping a return engagement with the Heurich Brewers.

The Heurich game, played Tuesday afternoon, was limited to five innings and the Freshmen absorbed a 9-1 lacing. The Brewers jumped on Toby Bright for four runs in the first inning and four more in the third off the slants of Lefty Kushman.

A last-inning rally of two runs gave the Buffmen their 3-2 victory over 7-Up last Monday. Jack Redinger set the "Drinkmen" down (See Frosh, Page 4).

Colonial Netters Score Victory Over Pitt, 7-2

• THE VARSITY NETTERS swung back into action this week after a period of enforced idleness due to rain, by meeting Wake Forest Thursday and Colgate Friday. Both matches will be played on the Columbia Country Club courts.

Last Thursday afternoon the Colonials won their third match of the season, defeating the University of Pittsburgh, 7 to 2, on the Columbia Club courts.

Led by Davie Johnson, who has yet to lose a singles match in intercollegiate competition, the Buffmen swept through the six singles matches without losing one, to put the contest on ice. Pitt staged a useless rally in the doubles match, winning two out of three.

Summaries
Singles: Johnson (G. W.) defeated Kristufek, 6-3, 6-2; Fleming (G. W.) defeated Hartman, 3-6, 6-3; Faris (G. W.) defeated McLaughlin, 6-0, 6-2; Blankin (G. W.) defeated Burns, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1; Meola (G. W.) defeated Kaufman, 6-1, 6-1.

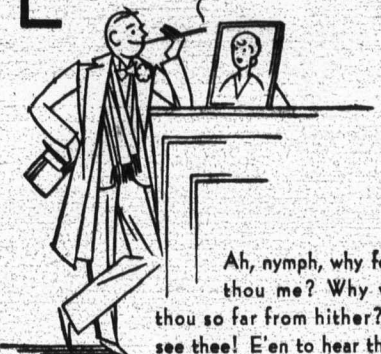

Doubles: Kristufek and Hartman (Pitt) defeated Johnson and Fleming, 6-4, 6-2; Faris and Davis (G. W.) defeated Harbuth and McLaughlin, 6-0, 6-1; Burns and Kaufman (Pitt) defeated Blankin and Meola, 6-1, 6-1.

• ALL INTRAMURAL handball and horseshoe matches should be played as soon as possible during the week, according to statement by Winnie De Angelis. The pairings will be found posted on the Student Club bulletin board.

Ward Society Celebrates Founders' Day

• THE LESTER F. WARD Sociological Society held its fourth annual Founders' Day Banquet Saturday, April 22, at the Highlands.

In accordance with its yearly custom, the society presented a book to the University Library, "Youth Tell Their Story" by Howard M. Bell of the American Youth Commission. Mr. Bell was the main speaker of the evening, and spoke of the problems that youth is now facing.

Dean James Harold Fox, of the University's School of Education, conducted the installation of the following officers: president, Wilmo Fitzgerald; vice-president, Mary Ella Hudgins; secretary, Ruth White; treasurer, Kirby Payne; representative, Helen Henry.

Service

dent over Betsy Yates, by a vote of 26-24. Miss Yates was the only Service candidate defeated in the entire set of elections. Roy Levey, running unopposed for vice president, received 31 votes, while three students voted for Marie McNeese, whose name had been withdrawn at her own request. For the position of Secretary, Jay Samuel, chief of the Service party, received 31 votes, while Everett Bellows, president of the Student Congress, received 18.

The report of William C. Gausmann, as Acting Advocate of the Student Council, will include the findings of three cases which came up for hearings before the Elections Committee. Thursday, the Service party charged Miss Lily Dhu Cobb with "forcing a vote" by electioneering within the restricted area around a voting machine. The Committee, by a unanimous decision, found her not guilty of any illegal practices, and accordingly acquitted her.

Friday, the Service party charged Charles Hamm of violating the election rules, but the Committee dismissed the case without comment. Later in the day, Fred Koch was accused of voting three times. Joe Clouty, I.V.L. chairman, charged that Mr. Koch was a Service party member.

The Committee found Koch guilty of multiple voting, but felt that it had not been proven that he was a member of any political party. The findings of the Committee will be transmitted to the Student Life Committee without comment. Gausmann, as Acting Advocate, will append his own recommendation for some sort of disciplinary action.

Members of the Elections Committee were Gausmann, Miss Yates, Layton MacNichol, Bruce Borum, and Prof. Henry G. Roberts.

Commenting upon the results of the election, Samuel said, in a statement to The Hatchet: "I'm glad that the members of the Student Council in the coming year will be able to continue the policies and procedures which are represented by the Service party. On behalf of the party I sincerely appreciate the confidence that the student body has placed in the Service party and its members."

blood) as Shadow, and the crime witness, Carr, by Lynn Lerch. Morris Leventhal will take the part of the organ grinder; Marie McNeese, the apple woman; and Joel Hoberman as the hobo who gives a humorous touch to the tragic drama. Nancy Whitmore, Nancy Morgan, Phil Young, Eugene Crowe, Allen Chapline, Jane McLaw, Betty Lane complete the large cast.

The presentation of "Winterset" will be the third dramatic production for Cue and Curtain this year. In their opening performance the dramatic organization presented two one-act plays entitled "The Farmer's Daughter," an old-fashioned melodrama, and "In Heaven and Earth," a serious play. The cast for "In Heaven and Earth" was awarded fourth place in the finals of the Washington one-act play tournament in February. In the second production, Cue and Curtain presented three one-act plays, "No, Not the Russians," "Grotesque for November," and "Love in the Bonds."

The last production will be directed by Floyd Sparks, who has served Cue and Curtain as director for the past five months. The two scenes are being constructed and painted under the direction of Henry Benz. They will be designed by Emily Scott with the assistance of Myrtle Williams of the art department staff.

All seats will be reserved for both performances. Tickets may be purchased from all members of Cue and Curtain, to be exchanged in the Student Club May 1 to 4 and at the gymnasium the evenings of the production, May 5 and 6.

ENGINEERS

• MR. J. E. SCHMELTZER, Assistant Technical Director of the Maritime Commission, will be the principal speaker at the Engineers Banquet this Saturday.

Mr. Schmeltzer has been long connected with ship building and marine engineering and has shown a great deal of interest in the Engineering School by aiding Dr. Johnson in planning the marine engineering and naval architecture course to be given at the University.

The topic of Mr. Schmeltzer's talk will be of interest to all engineers, for naval architecture is similar to civil engineering, as it also deals with structures and hydraulics. Marine engineering is similar to mechanical engineering in that a ship must be a complete power plant and a complete city in itself. This, of course, involves electrical engineering, which is necessary in all well-planned cities, floating or otherwise.

Presentation of the Sigma Tau Honorary Scholastic Award and the Theta Tau Activities Plaque will be made at the banquet. Keys will also be awarded to members of the Engineers Council for their fine work during the past year. The banquet will be held at the Colonial Hotel at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 6.

• SIGMA TAU will meet this Wednesday in D-204 at 7 p.m. for the last meeting of the year. Milo F. James, Max Christopher and W. Neff Frye have been pledged to Sigma Tau.

The annual farewell banquet will be held in conjunction with initiation on Saturday, May 20.

• THETA TAU announces the pledging of Irving Ballou.

• THE A. S. C. E. Regional Convention, which will be held at Catholic University on May 4 and 5, will feature a dinner at 7 p.m. Thursday and a field trip on Friday. Registration fee for the two-day period is $1.50.

• THE A. S. M. E. will also meet on May 10 to permit members to attend the Regional Convention now being held at the Case School of Applied Science at Cleveland this week. Joe Hartman will represent the University in competition, delivering a paper on electric steam boilers. Accompanying him on the trip are Prof. Cruickshanks, John Goff, Edward Lane, Howard Wilson, Guy Watson and Julius Ritter. New officers will be elected at the next meeting.

• THE REGULAR meeting of the A. E. E. is postponed until May 10, at which time election of officers will be held.

Members of the Elections Committee were Gausmann, Miss Yates, Layton MacNichol, Bruce Borum, and Prof. Henry G. Roberts.

Commenting upon the results of the election, Samuel said, in a statement to The Hatchet: "I'm glad that the members of the Student Council in the coming year will be able to continue the policies and procedures which are represented by the Service party. On behalf of the party I sincerely appreciate the confidence that the student body has placed in the Service party and its members."

Salesmen Must 'Prove It' To Merry

• "I'M FROM MISSOURI. Prove it!" admirably expresses the attitude Charles E. Merry, assistant to the comptroller, takes toward salesmen, anxious to sell their products to the University.

In charge of purchasing supplies and equipment for the school, Mr. Merry is a recognized expert on products testing, having been selected by the Educational Buyers Association to lead the discussions that group will conduct today and tomorrow at "Duke University on 'Products Testing as a Function of the E. B. A.'"

Of the 393 schools represented in this association, over 100 are equipped to test some types of products. The University is included in this latter group, having conducted laboratory tests on structural materials for some time.

In the various laboratories here Mr. Merry has at one time or another tested such products as concrete, floor treatments, chairs, and other construction materials. Now in progress are tests on mops and paints.

Congress Will Discuss Business And Government

• GOVERNMENT and business will be the next subject for consideration by the Student Congress in its monthly meeting scheduled for tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in Stockton 30.

The session promises to be a stormy one, for up to yesterday copies of the bill had not been made available to Congress members, contrary to rules of the Congress, and dissatisfaction over the lack of notice has been expressed by several of its members.

A meeting of the Rules Committee called for last Saturday afternoon was unattended except by the Chairman and Secretary of the committee and two members of one party who arrived late, therefore no new rules of procedure have been announced for Wednesday's session. Previous meetings have been held under strict rules limiting time of debate.

Roy Lowry, chairman of the Progressive Party of the Congress, Sunday announced a meeting of the Progressive Party for 7:45 Wednesday evening in D-102. "We will discuss the future of the Congress and of the Progressive Party, and in particular the activities of the Committee on Government and Business," he said.

The welcoming speech was given by Mrs. George A. Ross, president of the District Women's Missionary Society. Haley Scurlock, president of the local B.S.U., presided.

Nazis Beat Dr. LaVine, Med. Grad

• DR. OSCAR LaVine, graduate of the University Medical School and now studying in Vienna, reported to the U. S. Consul in Vienna last week that he was severely beaten by Nazi Storm Troopers as he was leaving a coffee house during an air raid "blackout."

Dr. LaVine was arrested last August 9, with Dr. George Albert, of New York. The two doctors were accused of having acted as recipients of 60,000 marks which they had allegedly contracted to deposit in a Swiss bank. He pleaded not guilty to the charge but was fined 60,000 marks ($24,000) and was given a six month's jail sentence.

The doctor served a two month's jail sentence and was then released on a $10,000 bond, raised by relatives and friends. Dr. LaVine is now awaiting action on his appeal from the conviction on charges of violating German's currency regulations.

Besides being a graduate of the University, Dr. LaVine interned at Gallinger and the Peoples Hospital, New York City. Upon completion of graduate work at the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons, he practiced for several years in Mt. Rainier and the District of Columbia.

Why is it that when one speaks of jewelry he never fails to mention BALFOUR'S JEWELRY? Satisfied customers is the logical answer. For many years BALFOUR'S, 1319 F Street, has been the favorite jeweler for the Greeks. Ask Mr. Ford to show the G. W. class rings or phone NA. 1045.

Stevens & Montgomery caught the eye of the mighty Art Cofman at Faculty Club, who he was being treated by another Strong Hall girl.

Jimmie Favort actually does have a collection of echings.

For those who love to dance and enjoy a refreshing cocktail—we recommend THE RAINBOW ROOM, Hamilton Hotel, 14th and K Streets N.W. You'll enjoy dancing to the tunes of Meyer Davis and his orchestra and you will applaud Lydia Sweigert's own arrangements of your favorite popular songs. And speaking of cocktails have you tried their frozen daquiris? They are fast becoming everybody's favorite. They hit the spot—that's why.

Ask anyone what their favorite pastime is and they'll say "eating." The CANDLSTICK COFFEE SHOP, 1710 Eye Street (just a few blocks from the campus), is the favorite rendezvous for G. W. students when meal time rolls round. It's the pleasant atmosphere that gets you. Seems just like home with the aroma of fresh baked pastries, home made rolls and biscuits tempting you the moment you come in. Stop in at the CANDLSTICK and enjoy good meal—just like the kind "Ma" gives you when you are home.

Numerous persons at G.W. have been mightily pleased that their courage have come from THOMAS BENSON—FLOWERS, 16 Dupont Circle, Phone DU. 5466. Individual and most attractive arrangements of a great variety of very nice flowers are the regular thing here—the home of OSGOOD the Duck.
